To whom it may concern.

I personally know Mr. Simon Orenbach who has coached and counselled my son and whom I highly recommend.

Along with his natural empathy and enthusiasm he has a unique way of associating psychotherapeutic approaches with his artistic background that develops self-confidence to those that follow sessions with him.

He is able to elicit an individual's natural resources to help understand concepts (social, academic) in an entertaining and highly efficient way.

Your institution can be proud and reassured to work with Mr. Simon Orenbach whom I consider a reputable, extremely efficient and a very reliable counsellor.
